AFTER THE FLOGGING plain to the imperial Austro-Hungarian Government the standpoint which the Government of His Majesty the King is now occupying in connection with the recorganization of Germany. In the treaty concluded on the 28th of August, 1866, expression is given to the anticipation that the German Government south of the

that the German Government south of the Marne would unite in a confederacy which, apart from its own independent position, would also enter into closer national bonds with the North German Confederacion. The realization of this anticipation was left to these governments, as neitier of the contracting parties could be justified or bound by the treaty to prescribe to the Sovereign South German States the nature of their future relations to each other. The South German States have, on their part, conitted to realize the aspirations shadowed forth in the Treaty of Prague. They have endeavored to propaspirations stationed tortical in the artesty of Prague. They have endeavored to propitate the prospective national closer relations with North Germany by the Zoll-verein and other mutual covenants.

Citusbille Morning Berald CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE. to have brought that to a degree of perfec-tion which indicates success. That he has discovered a motive power in certain alka-lis and saids, which has never been brought into practical use for agricultural imple-ments, there is no doubt. Whether he can make it work his machine horse over soft HOLIDAYS! make it work ats magnine norse over soir and uneven ground, seems to be the only point to be tested. He appears to be very confident himself that it will do so. Upon that we express so opinion now. We give his description of the machine as he has furnished it to us for public information— PHOTOGRAPH ot to advertise it it, but as a matter of The machine does not go on wheels, like The machine does not go on wheels, like an ongine, but walks like a horse, on four legs, which rise eight inches and make a forward move of eighteen at every revolution of a centre-shaft which works them. The shaft is, ten feet long, the length of the machine. The legs are five feet apart, which enables the machine to preserve its balance on meven ground. It is so constructed that it will go up and down a heavy grade with the greatest ease, and is The Largest and Most Complete heavy grade with the greatest case, and is calculated to walk and draw on soft and tilled land with more case than a team of Plain and Colored, tilled and with more case than a team or horses. It turns around in its own length to any point needed. As to speed, it will go at any rate from three to fifteen miles per hour. The concern can be reversed. It can be employed for all the purposes that a team of horses are useful, such as allowing receiving requires that a team of horses are useful, such as plowing, reaping or drawing wagons, street cars and canal boats.
